By Chase Anderson | June 29, 2022

Zachary Buffaloe, an Outdoor Product Design & Development graduate, accepted a full-time position at Rocky Mountain ATV as a Product Line Manager.

"I am excited to start this new chapter at Rocky Mountain ATV/MC as a project manager for the apparel team. This will be a great opportunity to work for an awesome company with a young and growing product design team. I am excited to be able to implement the design and product management skills I have learned from OPDD."
