USU Supporting NCHU Faculty Teaching Development Seminar

December 9 - 13, 2019

AGNR Associate Dean of Student Recruitment and Retention, Brian Warnick, will work with faculty members in NCHU's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources to help improve their teaching competencies, particularly related to teaching and presenting in English. He will work with them in developing a wider variety of teaching strategies and assessment techniques and in improving their self-efficacy in teaching students in English.
