USU Economics Professor Building Research Collaboration with NCHU

October 14 - 18, 2019

Dr. Man-Keun Kim (Applied Economics) visited National Chung Hsing University (NCHU) to attend research meetings with faculty in the Department of Applied Economics and International Bachelor Program of Agribusiness (IBPA) and also present his recent paper in the Applied Economics Seminar Series (photos). He has been working with three NCHU faculty members on new technology adoption, consumer supported agriculture, and agri-eco tourism since Spring 2019.
