

Impacts of a novel alfalfa product on milk production and dairy cow performance

Kara Thornton-Kurth

06/01/2017

Impacts of a novel alfalfa product on milk production and dairy cow performance

In this project we will test how three different rations using novel alfalfa products impact dairy cow performance. In this trial, we will provide the treatment ration for a period of three weeks with a control ration being provided for three weeks in between each of our treatment rations.